

3rd Annual Audiology Conference: Emerging Trends in Evaluation and Management of Central Auditory Processing Disorder (CAPD)

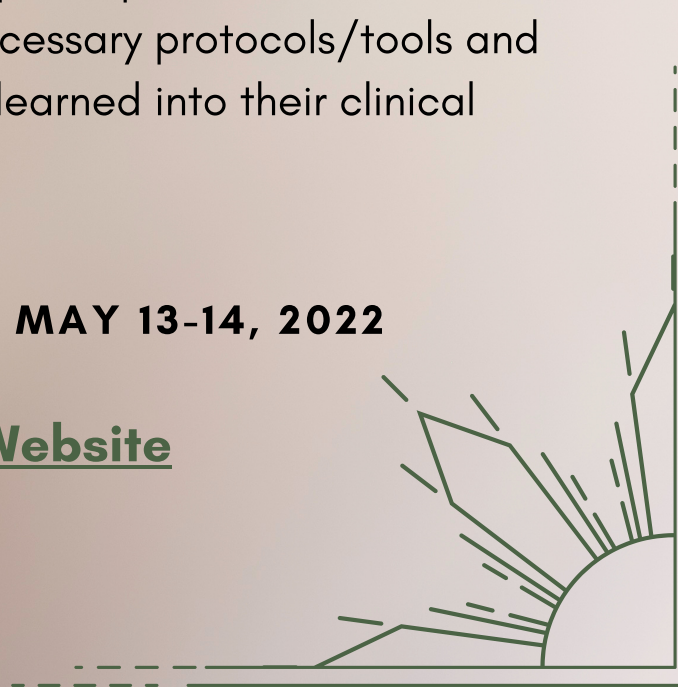

This virtual conference series will engage and inform audiologists /students and related professionals interested in evaluation and management of CAPD for clients across the lifespan. The conference series will focus on:

1. The role of auditory evoked potentials including cABR/FFR in evaluation
2. Novel intervention strategies including ARIA and other computer based or virtual options.

At the completion of the conference series participants will have the background, theoretical knowledge, and necessary protocols/tools and resources to translate knowledge and skills learned into their clinical practice.
